A MESSAGE FROM YOUR PRESIDENT:

It is that time again. Time for the call for nominations of officers for the next I.N.A. Board. The Official Announcement is included at another location within this bulletin. Please help us to present many nominees for each office. You should also consider having your local member club becoming involved with the nominations. Thank You.

The Committee seems to be very active and progressing quite well with preparation for the Fall I.N.A. Show and Convention in Cedar Rapids. Many activities are being planned in addition to the normal bourse and exhibits. If you have any suggestions, would like to present an exhibit or need a bourse table, I'm sure they would like to hear from you. The chairperson is Connie Stewart, Tel: (319) 396-2760.

I would like to ask the Secretary of each I.N.A. member club to present periodic club news for inclusion in the IOWA COLLECTOR. This will provide good free publicity for your club and may assist in obtaining new members. Plus the rest of us are interested!

We are still in need of a Historian for the I.N.A. This position has been vacant far too long. We must have someone step forward to take this position. Please consider helping your I.N.A. by accepting an appointment for the position, Thank you.

Finally, my regular reminder that we still do not have show sites for 1997 nor 1998. Again this is an opportunity to publicize your club and possibly improve the status of your club treasury. Please consider it.

Happy collecting

OFFICIAL CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

In concurrence with the By-Laws of the Iowa Numismatic Association, I hereby make the official call for nominations for the officers of the I.N.A. for the years of 1997-98. Any member in good standing may nominate a candidate for the offices of President, First Vice President, Second Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, and Directors. You may nominate people from your own District to serve as District Directors, but no more than two Directors from any one district. In addition, candidates for Director-at-Large may be nominated. Nominations must be mailed to the Second Vice-President, Ward Kain NO LATER THAN, July 1, 1996. Ballots will then be mailed to each 1996 member of the I.N.A., so their vote may be mailed in to the Secretary.

Remember, under this format, each member has a voice in the elections, and need not be present at the I.N.A. Convention to be heard.

In accordance with the By-Laws, the Chairs (President and Vice Presidents) must be filled by persons who have served as Directors or Officers of the I.N.A. It is your privilege to exercise your rights as a member, to nominate and to vote. Be sure to exercise that right!

Roger A. Wolver, SR., President, I.N.A.

FROM THE SECRETARY'S DESK:

From the looks of the beautiful flowers blooming out doors, Spring is finally here.

I'm sorry I missed visiting with so many of you at the Nevada Show but it was just too far from Arizona to make it! I have hears many reports of the terrific show that it was!

This Collector is to call for the nominations of the new officers to serve you for the next two years. Keep in mind no one is automatically on the ballot. If there is no nomination for a person, they are not on the ballot. They get a letter form if they are nominated, which they have to mark if they are willing to serve, or not. Lets get the nominations in, and have a good selection to vote from for the next 2 years.

I hope that you keep your attendance up at your Club meetings during the summer, in stead of forgetting about your Club meetings until fall. The officers need your attendance and support all year long.

Does your club do something during the summer for family fun? Lets hear the ideas your Club uses to keep the attendance up and the family interested. One of the Clubs we belong to has a family picnic at the lake and furnishes fried chicken and pop. The whole family is indited. The members bring a hot and a cold dish to finish out the meal, and a good time is had by ALL! What special thing does your Club do?

How do you like the new $100 bill? Do you think the new $5, $10, $20 and $50 will look the same? Lets vote for a new design if we are given the chance.

Take care and don't forget the hobby this summer

JoAnn Peters, INA
Secretary-Treasurer

UNUSUAL FOREIGN SCRIP

by: Akio Lis

Most numismatists eventually end up with some “unusual” items in their collections. These items may be ancient barter money, errors, patterns, etc. I have recently begun to accumulate and enjoy “foreign” issued paper scrip as an attraction addition to my collections. Scrip has been defined by Tiitus as “Non-legal tender substitute for money. redeemable in merchandise or services and sometimes even convertible into legal tender”. Examples that fit this definition may be tokens, notgeld, depression notes. and company chits. However, some of the “scrip” that I have obtained (or tried to obtain) may not be redeemable for anything except the enjoyment that they bring to this collector. The following examples have, in part, animal themes in their designs

The Jason Islands are part of the Falkland Island group located in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of South America. Notes were issued in denominations of 50 pence, £1, £5, £10, and £20 with the front of each note containing the denomination, the words Jason Islands, and the picture and signature of Len Hill, and the back containing the denomination, the words Jason Islands. and a picture of an island. The notes are distinguishable by their size (increasing size for increasing value), individual colors (green, purple, red. blue and brown, respectively) and the presence of a different penguin (Humboldt, Jackass, Rockhopper, Gentoo and King penguins, respectively) on the left side of the front of each note. The currency was issued by LenHill during the 1970's as legal tender for the Islands of Great and Steeple Islands, within the Falkland Island group. Unfortunately, the only inhabitants of these islands were approximately 4 million penguins, and no people. Mr. Hill issued these “notes” to help fund a penguin sanctuary on these islands after he bought them in 1970. Only 50,000 pieces of each demoniation were printed by Coinette of Colchester located in Essex, England. These notes were the only types issued due to the death of Mr. Hill in 1981. However, these notes are easy to find and can be bought for as little as $2.00 for the complete set.

The Hutt River province, a 12,000 acre western Australian wheat farm and self-proclamed principality, is well known in numismatic circles for the issuance of “legal tender” commemorative coins/medals. However, in 1974^ the principality also issued notes in 10¢, 20¢, 50¢, 1 and $2 denominations that are legal tender only in the province. These notes feature a common design featuring the picture and signature Prince Leonard of Hutt River. the Hutt River provincial seal, a serial number, and the denomination on the front, and the denomination, Hutt River province seal, and rows of cows and farm machinery (tractors) on the back. The denominations are distinguished via the color of the note (blue, green, red, purple, and yellow, respectively). These notes tend to be hard to find.

Other areas in Australia have also issued notes that are only legal tender within their boundaries. One such example is Fitzroy Island, a self-contained resort wholly owned by the Daikyo Company of Japan located in the Great Barrier Reef near Cairns, Australia. These notes are identified as "Cruise Currency" and issued in denominations of 50¢, $1, $2, $5, and $10. The common design elements in each note feature the denomination, a picture of an island and the words 'Cruise Currency' on the back of the note, and the denomination, 'Cruise Currency', and a serial number on the front. Each note is differentiated by color, and the picture of a different indigenous Australian animal (kangaroo, marlin, platypus, koala and frilled neck lizard, respectively) on the front. These notes can be obtained for 95% of their face value in Australian dollars through Great Adventure outlets in Australia (although redeemable for their face value in Australian dollars!).

Finally, notes from the Country of Oceanus have become available to collectors. These multi-colored notes are issued by the Oceanus Institute of Nanset-Seawall, Maine as educational donation receipts for contributions to their effort to "make everyone aware of the plight of our seas, the environment and what you can do about it". The three denominations of 1 Currentsea, 10 Currentsea and 10,000 Currentsea contain pictures by Peter C. Thompson of various sea animals and birds over which are superimposed the denomination, signatures, etc. The one currentsea note shows capelin and marine copepods on the front and a rock crab on the back, the 10 currentsea note shows a greater shearwater on the front and a yellowfin tuna on the back and the 10,000 currentsea note has a ring-billed gull on the front and an Atlantic cod on the back.

The above are just some of the types of numismatica that can increase the attractiveness of one's collection. These types of note may also be of use to the thematic collector.
